

Bring a fresh perspective and a positive, group-learning event to your association, private group, retreat or conference with E-Myth's interactive breakout sessions and workshops. Our 2-3 hour programs offer mindset-changing exercises and practical tools for immediate implementation.

All programs are facilitated by an experienced E-Myth expert and are based on our proprietary business solutions. We'll work with you to create a custom agenda designed specifically to answer the pressing business needs facing your audience.

Key Frustrations

Learn a valuable problem solving technique and develop the skill of systems-based thinking. Deal with immediate business frustrations in a way that will eliminate them and even prevent their recurrence. Leave the workshop with a powerful tool that reduces a toxic work environment filled with blame and creates a culture that sees problems as opportunities.

High Performance Environment

Learn how to encourage your internal culture and create a structure that's best suited to support your vision for the business. Give your staff the tools to get the expected results and you will create a "game worth playing" not only for you, but for employees, customers and anyone else who comes into contact with the business.

Systems Strategy

Learn how to create a sensible Systems Strategy Plan in order to turn-key your business. Assess the key areas of your business, increase awareness of individual and organizational strengths, and be equipped with a model for organizing the work of the business while leveraging areas of opportunity. Discover the entrepreneurial perspective to strategically align your business and create the strategy for systems development.
